At a time when the legitimacy of democracies is in question, calls to improve the quality of public deliberation are sweeping the social sciences. Yet, real deliberation lies far from the deliberative ideal.

Based on 10 years of fieldwork, Political Translation provides the first systematic study of multilingual deliberation and cultural misunderstandings in transnational context.

Sponsored by Northeastern University’s Department of Sociology and Anthropology, The International Affairs Program, School of Public Policy and Urban Affairs and the Center for International Affairs and World Cultures