Americans often claim to value religious freedom. But how do we respond when religious minorities take more than one spouse, interact with aliens, or stockpile weapons for the end of the world? This class explores common characteristics and popular depictions of religions on the fringes of American culture, often called cults or sects by nonmembers. Instructor permission required. NU attributes: Engaging Difference and Diversity (DD); Interpreting Culture (IC); Capstone Experience (CE); Writing Intensive (WI). Twitter: #NUcults