

Dylan Maguire

7 Windom Street, #2, Somerville, MA 02144 • 914-714-4705 • maguire.dy@husky.neu.edu

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

International Republican Institute, Washington, DC

Program Assistant, 2013–2015

- Primary researcher and author of political and economic analysis on post-2011 governance and constitutional reforms in Jordan, produced for senior leadership and USAID
- Team lead for proposal development on community outreach, political party strengthening, and civil-society projects
- Designed monitoring & evaluations tools and collated data for quarterly program evaluations
- Managed large program contracts, including writing scopes of work, tracking deliverables, and ensuring compliance with relevant regulations

Rafik Hariri Center for the Middle East at the Atlantic Council, Washington, DC

Research Intern, Fall 2012

- Produced daily policy digest covering political and security developments in target countries
- Researched tribalism and militancy in Yemen for major policy report

Institute for National Strategic Studies, Fort Lesley J. McNair, DC

Research Intern, Summer 2012

- Conducted a detailed literature review on Iraqi federalism and its implications for oil and gas revenue sharing
 - Produced daily policy briefs on Middle East security and energy developments for intra-office distribution
-

EDUCATION

Northeastern University, Boston, MA, Present (Degree Expected 2020)

Doctoral Program in Political Science; Focus: Comparative Politics and International Relations

Boston University, Boston, MA, May 2012

Master of Arts in International Affairs; Regional Focus: Middle East & North Africa

John Jay College, New York City, NY, August 2009

Bachelor of Arts in Government

SELECTED PUBLICATIONS

“Looking to Syria: No-Fly Zones and Political Stability in Iraq and Libya,” Journal of Middle Eastern Politics and Policy Vol. 5 (Spring, 2016).

“Problems With Neighbors: Turkey, Iraq, and the Syrian Kurds,” Atlantic Council Viewpoint, 29 November 2012.

“Murky Waters: Implications of a Syrian No-Fly Zone,” Institute for National Strategic Studies Blog, 12 June 2012.

ACTIVITIES

Wikistrat, Washington, DC

Contributing Analyst, July 2015–Present

ADDITIONAL SKILLS

Language: Intermediate proficiency in Modern Standard Arabic; Intermediate proficiency in French

Technical Skills: R, SPSS, Sharepoint, Microsoft Office Suite (Word, PowerPoint, Excel), Social Media Tools (Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, WordPress, Instagram), Google Apps for Work (Gmail, Drive, Docs, Drive, Hangouts)

Interests: Rock Climbing

Academic and Professional References Available Upon Request