Service and Consultation

National Service

Asian American Psychological Association (Finance Officer, 2018-2020; National Convention Co-Chair, 2011-2013; Volunteer Committee Co-Chair, 2007-2009; Proposal reviewer, 2005, 2011, 2014-16; Poster judge, 2014-16).

- As Finance Officer, my responsibilities included managing multiple financial accounts (e.g., PayPal, credit card, checking), negotiating division proposals and payments, negotiating external (e.g., American Psychological Association, BustOut web management team) payments, writing detailed financial reports, and more. I was responsible for managing and overseeing the new credit card system with AAPA Division subaccounts. I trained and supervised three additional staff members and one undergraduate assistant from 2019-2020, wrote a training manual for the position, and covered our position needs in late 2019 when my co-officer vacated the position.
- From August to December 2020, I also oversaw the finance operations for the COVID-19 Communities of Color research project, funded by over $200,000 from the National Urban League. I organized payments to co-investigators, helped prepare tax documents, and communicated filing deadlines with university finance offices and research team members. I also trained and collaborated with three Finance Officers from AAPA to learn the procedures for remuneration.

- As convention co-chair, I collaborated with a team of 19 committee members to organize and coordinate the convention theme, location, guest speakers and honoraria, catering, registration, pricing, student volunteers, mentoring events, convention and banquet awards programs, internet and A/V logistics, and Continuing Education Units. I also composed a summary report for the AAPA Executive Committee to review.
