

COMPLEX QUESTIONS
CREATIVE
RESPONSES

Eighth Annual CSSH
Undergraduate Research Forum

March 23 & 24, 2022

INTRODUCTION

Associate Dean Laura Green

PANEL I

3:05 - 3:40

Olivia Feeley, Political Science and International Affairs; Ava Cervini, History and Political Science; Kelly Gilmore, Political Science and International Affairs; Vincent Rago, Political Science; Andres Ridge, Political Science and International Affairs; Gianna Worthington, Political Science and International Affairs

How Far I'll Go: Social Infrastructure Accessibility and Proximity in Urban Neighborhoods

Nicole Naquin, Political Science

Better Together? The Role of Social Capital in Urban Social Vulnerability

Trissha Sivalingam, Political Science and International Affairs

Unlikely Refuge: India as a Safe Haven for Jewish Refugees?

Moderator: Amílcar Barreto, Professor, Political Science and International Affairs

PANEL II

3:45 - 4:25

Andrea Giesman, History and Economics

Food Sovereignty Approaches as a part of Native American Resistance

Alexandra Jacobs, History and International Affairs

The "Gross Indecency" of Imperialism: How the British and Irish Used Sexuality Scandals to Advance Political Aims

Lily Zukin, Criminal Justice and Sociology

Narrating Religiosity in Juvenile and Young Adult Parole Board Hearings

Moderator: Heather Streets-Salter, Professor, History

PANEL III

4:30 - 5:00

Ella Cullen, Criminal Justice

Shannon Community Safety Initiative: COVID Setbacks and Partner Reflections

Moderator: Kevin Drakulich, Associate Professor, Criminology and Criminal Justice

INTRODUCTION

Associate Dean Laura Green

PANEL I

2:05 - 2:40

Peter Burds, English

Bridging the Void: Reconciling Fatalism and Zhuangzi's Dao of Death

Chantel Haigler, The Fundamentals of Praxis: A Three Part Project

ASL-English Interpreting and Psychology

Jaeyoon Lee, Biology and English

Training in the Art of Medicine: Applications of Narrative Medicine to Residency Programs

Moderator: K.J. Rawson, Associate Professor, English and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies

PANEL II

2:45 - 3:25

Taber Skiba, Economics

The Value of Water

Katherine Van Woert, Political Science; Katelyn Buckley, Environmental Studies and Political Science; Jonathan Baron, Political Science and Economics; Sophia Olivieri, Politics, Philosophy, and Economics; Pamela Lalli, Politics, Philosophy, and Economics

Cycling Cities: Measuring Transportation Access and Equity in Boston BlueBikes Bikeshare System

Kayla Collins, Political Science and International Affairs; Rajvi Shah, Political Science and Economics; Sanjna Patel, Data Science and Business Administration

Are Defendants in California Treated Fairly? A Psycholinguistic Study

Moderator: Madhavi Venkatesan, Assistant Teaching Professor, Economics

Eighth Annual CSSH Undergraduate Research Forum

March 23 & 24, 2022