

How to add events to the CSSH Central Calendar and University Event Calendar

The CSSH Central Calendar is the college's internal calendar for tracking events: <https://cssh.northeastern.edu/central-calendar/>. This calendar can be filtered by public events, private events/meetings, and all other CSSH events added.

It is REQUIRED that all CSSH events be added to this calendar at least one week in advance of the event in order to be featured on the weekly CSSH newsletter emails and to avoid serious scheduling conflicts with college-wide events.

Please note: The CSSH Central Calendar pulls PUBLIC events directly from the University Event Calendar when tagged correctly.

To add a PUBLIC EVENT to the CSSH Central calendar, please add it to the University's Event Calendar

1. Visit the University Event Calendar submission page: <https://calendar.northeastern.edu/event/create>
2. Login using your Northeastern username/password

Note: events can only be edited using the same account that originally submitted it. It is strongly discouraged that students submit any department or program events for this reason.

To add a PRIVATE EVENT to the CSSH Central calendar:

Please email the event name, date, time, and location to the College Events team at CSSHevents@northeastern.edu. Invite-only events and important meetings that include a significant portion of the college population, such as all-day retreats for faculty and staff of large departments, are REQUIRED to be on the Central Calendar for college event planning purposes.

Please keep in mind the following details:

- Before adding your event to the University Event Calendar, please check the calendar and coordinate with co-sponsors/hosts to help ensure that duplicate events do not appear on the calendar.
- University Events requires approval before your event submission becomes public; this process takes ~2-3 business days but can vary during peak times of year.
- Once the University Events Calendar has approved your event, it may take a full business day for it to appear on the CSSH Central Calendar.
